TAMPA | Office

Galloway, Johnson, Tompkins, Burr and Smith's Tampa office, which opened in 2009, is located in the heart of one of Florida's leading cities. Our Tampa attorneys provide a broad range of litigation defense and advisory services to a diverse clientele. Our litigation practice includes construction defect, professional liability, banking, real estate, trucking/transportation, products liability, premises liability, first-party insurance, Jones Act, LHWCA, and General Maritime Law. We also advise business and individuals regarding complex transactions, estate planning and asset protection. Our practice areas reflect the composition of Tampa Bay's economy—construction, finance, transportation, energy and port/maritime.

Tampa is the hub of one of the largest metropolitan areas in the Southeast, with 8 million people living and working within 100 miles. Located midway down the Gulf Coast of the Florida peninsula, the Tampa region welcomes nearly 20 million visitors annually and is one of the nation's biggest media markets. It also serves as an expanding distribution center for Florida and as the western gateway to the Florida High Tech Corridor that stretches across the state to Orlando and the Cape Canaveral Space Coast. Nearly one in four of Florida's business and information services firms calls Tampa home, ranging from information technology to law firms, accounting, engineering, and other consulting businesses. Those seeking to live and do business here find a fun and interesting lifestyle with varied arts, culture, and recreational activities in a sun-drenched climate. And Galloway, Johnson, Tompkins, Burr and Smith will continue to provide excellence in legal counsel for our Tampa Bay area corporations and individuals.
